Nice presentation - thank you. For an example of an ocean color image from 1980 (CZCS), a (simplistic) interpretation of spatial patterns, some background on phytoplankton variability, and vertical particle flux in the Black Sea, you may see: Hay, B., and S. Honjo. 1989. Particle deposition in the present and Holocene Black Sea. Oceanography 2(1):26–31, <https://doi.org/10.5670/oceanog.1989.27>.

Dalin- the spectra for the different method/instruments look very different. Were these done near simultaneously?

Muiga Mwangi

11:45 AM

Very comprehensive and interesting study @Dalin

Chuan Hu

11:45 AM

No - they were collected at different locations different times

Frank Muller-Karger

11:45 AM

Thanks @Beth, the link works, I'll have a better look at it after this

Or even enabling plug and play use of algorithms by experienced users. Could also be dangerous!
